JACK ATKIN IS DEFEATED.

KEENE'S RESTIGOUCHE IS ADDED AND RUNS AWAY WITH THE FREEPORT HANDICAP.

Thistledale Takes the Winfield Steeplechase—Madden Wins with Chaperon and Has to Stand a Run-up—Great Attendance Views the Races.

New York, April 18.—Whipped away from the post and standing a drive throughout the long stretch, James R. Keene's Restigouche beat Jack Atkin, the Carter Handicap winner of last Wednesday, in the feature event at Aqueduct today. The race was the Freeport Handicap, and the distance was the same as the Carter, seven furlongs. Restigouche was an added starter, under ninety-seven pounds, while Jack Atkin took up five pounds more than he carried in the Carter Handicap, making his impost 127. The latter was a heavily backed favorite, as Mr. Schreiber's sprinter has shown that weight in reason makes little or no difference to him. At one time 3 to 2 was obtained, but 4 to 5 was the quotation at post time. Although Restigouche held a prominent place in the ante-post gossip of the Carter, where he would have met Jack Atkin on four pounds better terms, he was not looked upon with much favor today, the odds receding from 4 to 1 to 6 to 1. In fact, except for a slight following accorded Rialto and Zienap, Jack Atkin completely dominated the betting. Delahy rode Restigouche, and this did not, in the opinions of the wisecracks, enhance his chances to any great degree. But Delahy got the Commando colt away from the post well and forced him to maintain the lead by a liberal application of the whip. After going a quarter the colt found his speed and began to draw away, opening up a gap of three lengths on the bend. Jack Atkin was bothered a trifle just after the start, but the interference was not enough to have seriously affected his chances. After turning for home Jack Atkin worked up to second place, and just after passing the furlong post was almost on even terms with the pacemaker, appearing all over the winner. But Delahy, who had been at work on Restigouche, redoubled his efforts and Mr. Keene's colt got a severe trouncing for the next half furlong. He proved his stoutness of heart by responding in a thoroughly courageous manner, while Jack Atkin tired under pressure, and Restigouche drew away to win by three lengths with something left. Restigouche, by his gameness and speed, gave every indication of making a distinctly useful three-year-old for the master of Castleton. There was very little contention behind the first and second horses, Rialto easily beating Riffman for third money.

The sidelight to the Freeport was the Winfield Steeplechase. Like the other cross-country races at the meeting, the field was small, only three going to the post, with Thistledale a 9 to 20 chance and legitimately so, as he outclassed the others and simply ran away with the race, but his fencing was far from faultless as he has not forgotten his old trick of swerving at the jumps. Palm fell, but was remounted and took third money.

The tabulated history of the Winfield Steeplechase is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	A. Wt.	Jockey.	Val.	Time.
1907	California King	138	Ray	.....	$1,060 4:34
1908	Thistledale	155	Stone	.....	1,110 4:27

A. J. Joyner showed up what may prove to be a useful member of the season's two-year-old division in Indomitable, a good-looking daughter of Watercross and Victoria Cross, which stood a long, hard drive to beat James R. Keene's Mystify, the pacemaker.

After Chaperon, backed from 15 to 1 to 8 to 1, had won the fifth race, J. L. McGinnis bid the filly up from $800 to $1,100, trainer Paterson putting in the protecting bid and keeping Chaperon. This is an indication that the selling race differences between Mr. McGinnis and John E. Madden were not forgotten over winter. The trouble dates back to the purchase of Salvadore from W. Harry Brown almost two years ago, when McGinnis claims he was deterred from bidding on Salvadore on the information of Mr. Madden that the horse had been fired and gave evidences of unsoundness. McGinnis has been active ever since when the Kentucky turfman won a selling race and there is no likelihood of a let-up.

The weather was disagreeable again today, being cloudy, raw and windy throughout, with showers at times. The attendance was first-class, but one thing that four days of racing under the new regulations governing betting demonstrates, is the big increase in attendance for the cheaper inclosure. Many race-goers do not care to be compelled to wager $5 or nothing, and have switched their patronage to the field, where the admission is less and where one can get down a modest $2 wager. The crowd in the field stand today would have done credit to a Brooklyn or Suburban gathering.

An amusing incident occurred after Palm had unsaddled his rider four fences from home during the running of the steeplechase. Palm is owned by Courtland H. Smith and Jay O'Brien, both skilled amateur riders, and both of whom saw the race from the infield. With Palm out of the race there was $100 third money going to waste. The two owners had a foot race across the field, but Mr. Smith proved the faster, and remounting Palm, rode him out in time to relieve the Aqueduct treasury of the century note.

GOVERNOR HUGHES' REMARKABLE COURSE.

Convincing Evidence that He Attempts to Coerce
Co-ordinate Branches of State Government.

The anti-racing campaign of Governor Hughes of New York has been waged with such an obstinate determination and bitterness as to excite wonder on the part of even his friends and admirers. Report has it that the governor plays a good game of poker, so it must follow that he has no moral repugnance to betting. Yet he is carrying on a crusade against wagering on race tracks that is not only remarkable but bordering on an insulting attitude towards the legislative and judicial departments of his state. This latter phase is powerfully and illuminatingly set forth in the following recent editorial in the New York Sun. It is more than worth careful reading:

"The defeat of the anti-racing bill at Albany last Wednesday must in a large measure be ascribed to a protest on the part of the State Senators against dictation and the sting of the Executive lash. The question is still an active one and the issue is still vital, because the Governor is not willing to submit to defeat. The morning after the vote in the Senate he sent a special message to the Legislature saying: 'I again urge you to enact appropriate legislation to abolish the existing discrimination in favor of race track gambling.'

"It is not a question for the Legislature whether this vice should be permitted or regulated. Under the Constitution the Legislature has no right to permit it or to regulate it.

"Respect for law is the security of our Government, and the guarantees of the rights of liberty and property will not long avail if the people are taught to view the Constitution with contempt.

"I therefore urge you to discharge a manifest duty and to end the discriminations in favor of race track gambling, which cupidity inspired and now seeks to maintain."

"Again, later in the week, in a speech before the Lawyers Club at Buffalo, he returned to the attack in these words:

"As Governor I shall throughout my term insist that the test be met. It is rarely that we are presented with a proposition so fundamental. I say to all who are interested in upholding our institutions, whatever their views on particular questions may be, whatever their personal inclinations may be, you cannot afford to have an issue between the Constitution of the State and unscrupulous money power, and allow the Constitution to be defeated."

Governor Hughes thus wagers and stakes his political future on the test of his power not to curb but absolutely to dominate and control a non-compliant branch of the Legislature. There is another aspect to this question which perhaps the Governor, good lawyer as he is, has not sufficiently considered.

Let us see whether, notwithstanding his good faith, the Governor is not in reality violating the guarantee of the right of personal liberty and the guarantee of the right of property. Is he not attempting to override the Legislature and to supplant the Court of Appeals? Is he not attempting to take from the Legislature, through his executive power, the discretion which the Constitution itself vests in the Legislature, or, in other words, is he not seeking to substitute his personal view for the judgment given by the Constitution to a co-ordinate branch of the Government?

"The new Constitution, which took effect on January 1, 1895, contained a provision which had never before been part of the organic law of the State—the provision contained in Section 9 of Article I, and reading:

"Nor shall any lottery or the sale of lottery tickets, pool selling, bookmaking or any other kind of gambling hereafter be authorized or allowed within this State; and the Legislature shall pass appropriate laws to prevent offenses against any of the provisions of this section."

"In the first place, it should be noted that the Constitution does not provide that bookmaking or any other kind of gambling shall be made a crime, and yet Governor Hughes insists that unless betting at a race track be made a crime the Constitution is violated. Even the framers of the new Constitution recognized the fact that any organic law which attempted to make every form of gambling a crime would be absolutely incapable of enforcement. Under the Governor's theory of constitutional construction he does not venture to ask that every form of gambling shall be made a crime, but desires that one particular form of gambling, that is to say bookmaking or betting at the race tracks, shall be made a crime.

"In the same year, 1895, which saw the new Constitution go into operation, the Legislature passed a number of acts controlling the whole racing system, and in an act which is known as the Percy-Gray law the forfeiture of the value of any money wagered was made an exclusive penalty for betting at a race course, while the Penal Code made betting at any other place than a race track a crime, and it is this discrimination which excites the ire of the Governor. Of the Percy-Gray law the Court of Appeals said:

"The obvious purpose of the act of 1895 was to permit honest and legitimate racing and prevent the evils which had previously attended that class of amusements. Although it authorized horse racing, it was intended to guard and respect it so as to prohibit the abuses that had hitherto existed. To accomplish that end a State Racing Commission was created, and the Jockey Club was practically made the supervisor of all running races and run-

KENTUCKY DERBY HORSES LIKELY TO START

Milford and Sir Cleves Now Most Fancied of the Prominent Eligibles.

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—There is many a string to the bow of the 1908 Kentucky Derby. George J. Long has two in Sir Cleves and Balbus. W. H. Elzer expects to strike high with Milford. Edward Alvey has Dr. Mathews; J. C. Milam relies on R. C. Rann, and, although his colt performed disappointingly at New Orleans, he still has faith in him as a possibility in the big race. Then there is Dunvegan, Bill Herron, Synchronized, Simon Weil, Gilvehear, Stone Street, Banridge, E. T. Shipp, Marcus Aurelius, Winifred Ryan, Western Knight, Cymbal, Zagg, Frank Bird, Joe Moser and Pink Cap. It is expected that a field of six or eight will go to the post on May 5 at Churchill Downs.

Men who have witnessed the running of the preceding Derbys—thirty-three in number—cannot recall one surrounded by more uncertainty. Because of this the race possesses great interest. Recently "sure winners" have been displaced by the fast work of some other eligible. With the event about three weeks away no one seems able to select the horse which will go the Derby distance, one mile and a quarter, in fast time.

Condition will tell the story, just as it did last year when W. H. Elzer sent the victor first under the wire in Pink Star.

Unfortunately, this has been a bad season for training. Up to this time Sir Cleves and Balbus have been worked but four times. Balbus has reeled off a mile in 1:46. Sir Cleves' time for the same distance was 1:47. Synchronized has done some good work, a shade better than Sir Cleves, but he is not to be compared with him.

R. C. Rann's races at New Orleans are not to be considered, Milam says. In the first place it takes a good-sized boy to ride him, one that can make him extend himself. His races this winter were short ones, and it is claimed that he has not had a fair chance. The horse looked good while in the south, but his performances indicated that he was not himself.

Milford is the one that continues to attract attention and is looked upon by Elzer as a sure thing. In his last race he went a mile in 1:39½ and galloped on the outside all the way. He can carry weight and no kind of a track can stop him. He is a Falsetto, a grand looker and fast. It is conceded by good judges that there will be trouble in disposing of him.

Trainers have been retarded by the inclement weather, but there is still sufficient time to have the Derby horses fit if the sun shines.

Lon Jones has a good stable this season. He will cut loose five coking two-year-olds at Churchill Downs during the spring meeting. The youngsters are Lordship, a colt by Dr. Rice—Katie G.; Battle Fleet, a colt, by Admonition—Miss C.; Admonition, a black gelding, by Admonition—Eothen's Pearl; Admonish, a filly, by Admonition—Zera; Adler, a colt, by Admonition—Fatality. Fatality is the dam of Oak Duke and Artful Dodger. Battle Fleet is a full-brother of Zipango, and is an exceptionally good-looking horse. Jones also has Labor, Elvira M. and Colonel Jim Douglas. The last named is the property of Alf Oldham, and has come home many a time with the coon skins, though he was first but one time last year. Jones says that Colonel Jim Douglas looks splendid, but he is uncertain about the old campaigner's legs. Rosecoe Gosse, a Louisville boy, will ride all the horses in Jones' stable. Jones thinks he will develop into a good jockey.

The number of horses at Churchill Downs and Douglas Park is about 1,200. The last of the arrivals from New Orleans came Thursday night. The special which arrived Wednesday had a rough trip. After leaving Memphis several rain storms were encountered and near Louisville the train was caught in a cloudburst. The horses and their handlers on this train experienced many hardships. All presented a woe-begone appearance when they unloaded. The journey resulted in the death of one horse—Buckman, a steeplechase performer, owned by Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and handled by Herman Flippen. He contracted pneumonia and bled for nearly thirty hours. Throughout his career he was a bleeder. Buckman was a chestnut gelding by Dorian—Miss Buckman. At Brighton Beach and in Canada he won several races, but at New Orleans he made no showing for the reason that E. W. Maginn regarded him as a high-class horse and always assigned him a heavy impost.

When Charley Ellison was here this week he went to Churchill Downs to inspect George J. Long's Derby candidate. When he beheld Sir Cleves he expressed his admiration unqualifiedly.

"He is certainly a promising-looking colt," was Ellison's comment.

After looking at Balbus, the stable-mate of Sir Cleves, he said:

"Balbus is powerfully built and is a good looker, but the other colt shows best. In my opinion he will win the Derby."

MONTGOMERY PARK DENUDED OF HORSES.

Memphis, Tenn., April 18.—The stable of William Wallace was shipped to New York today to begin the racing season. The shipment leaves the local field almost deserted, many owners having decided to campaign east or west.

BUYS INTEREST IN THE C. H. SMITH STABLE.

Courtland H. Smith has sold a half interest in his stable of steeplechasers to Jay O'Brien, well known as a gentleman rider.

TURFMEN TO HONOR FLEET.

NO OAKLAND RACING MAY 6 TO ALLOW ALL
TO WELCOME UNCLE SAM'S ARMADA.

Five Favorites, J. W. O'Neill, Tom Hayward, Yada, Boggs and Pajaroita Reward Their Admirers—Marster a Surprise.

Oakland, Cal., April 18.—President Thomas H. Williams made the announcement today that there would be no racing at Oakland on May 6, the day of the arrival of the United States battleship fleet, which will mark the greatest celebration of any event in the history of the Pacific coast.

Mr. Williams was in receipt of a dispatch during the afternoon from Philip J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, asking him to subscribe to the famous Gravesend sporting event, the Astoria Dinner Stakes, to be held June 15 next, and promptly responded by naming his two crack fillies Rubia Granda and Rosevale.

In order to be represented on that important occasion with the two fillies just named and allow them time for acclimating and a thorough preparation, the master of the Undine Stable decided to ship his entire string comprising Firestone, Prejicio, Creation, Rubia Granda, Big Bow, Rosevale, El Picaro, Blameless, Colonel White and Rubric to New York on May 15 or two weeks earlier than he had originally intended. The two crack stable jockeys will also leave on that date.

The splendid card today attracted an enormous half-holiday crowd, which profited well over the former results. Five favorites, J. W. O'Neill, Tom Hayward, Yada, Boggs and Pajaroita, won. Bedwell, the owner of the last-named horse, created a mild sensation by substituting Walter Miller on his speed marvel instead of Lycurgus. Bedwell admitted that he was not satisfied with his ride on Luretta the day before, and accordingly made the change.

The only winning outsider, Marster, developed in the feature race, at one mile and a sixteenth. In his preceding effort, Marster, as a favorite, ran a comparatively bad race, with Miller up. Today he was a much-improved horse, with Sandy riding him. Frank Flitther, the favorite, was the victim of foul riding. The running was replete with rough work, Cabin putting Johnny Lyons almost over the fence at the end.

Al Goodin arrived today from Santa Anita with Progress, John J. Rogers and Egotist.

Jockey Butwell's left foot was crushed from contact with the fence while riding Storma in the fifth race last Tuesday, and he will be incapacitated for riding for several weeks.

The horses G. W. Baldwin recently brought to Oakland from Arcadia, which were disqualified from starting here by reason of his suspension by the stewards, have been turned over to Early Wright to train by their owner. G. W. Baldwin's badge as trainer was taken up yesterday.

The horses in the Fleur de Lis Stable, including the crack mare Sugarmaid, will be shipped to Seattle May 20. The stable jockey Merritt Buxton will remain and finish out the local meeting in charge of George Miller, trainer of the El Nido Stable.

Thomas H. Williams' great colt Firestone is ready for the races and will probably face the starter a couple of times before being sent east.

FALSE RUMORS STIR AQUEDUCT'S PATRONS.

New York, April 18.—A wild rumor was circulated early at Aqueduct today that arrests would be made in the ring during the afternoon. The tip came from the Albany correspondent of a local paper and was purported to have the backing of Governor Hughes. The report turned out to be a canard, but it gave three or four reporters of the paper that had the tip a half holiday to cover the expected raids in sensational style.

Racing men generally and especially those who have borne the brunt of the fight against the sport in the senate chamber, believe that the Agnew-Hart bills are no longer a real live issue, as the governor apparently is losing ground daily, while some of the strongest of the metropolitan newspapers are making a more determined fight now than at any time during the campaign. When Sol Lichtenstein, the poolhall of the ring, walked into the clubhouse balcony after the first race, the report was started that he had tired of the new order of things in the ring and had quit. But it turned out that Sol was only on a visit to the more aristocratic section during the running of the steeplechase on which he did not book.

NEW ARRIVALS AT CASTLETON STUD FARM.

Lexington, Ky., April 18.—With another hard rain last night and today, hope for a fast track for the opening of the spring meeting Wednesday has been abandoned. If there is no more rain it will be possible to have it in fair condition, but there has been so much water that even this will entail constant hard work.

The stables of H. Clark, Mose Goldblatt, John Marklein and Hugh McCarran, Jr., arrived today. The latest foals at James R. Keene's Castleton Stud are a bay filly by Disguise—Pastorella; chestnut colt by Voter—Lady Invercauld; bay or brown colt by Ben Brush—Ambrosine and a bay filly by Ben Brush—Roseling.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Montgomery and Tony Faust have been declared
from the Excelsior Handicap.

Lucky Baldwin is a daily visitor at Oakland,
though he finds it hard to get around.

Steve Conroy, assistant to starter Jake Holtman
at Lexington, is schooling the two-year-olds there.

Thomas Welsh is training John E. Madden's two-year-olds, which until recently were in charge of
A. J. Joyner.

W. W. Finn has sold St. Avon to G. C. Turpin, who intends to run him in the Denver Derby. The price was $2,000.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas H. Strahan, wife of the superintendent of the Benning track, was held in Washington Wednesday.

Jockey Manders has been reinstated and will ride during the rest of the Oakland meeting. He was suspended at Seattle last summer.

Col. Jim Young, who was for some time the manager of the Latonia Jockey Club, is now at the head of a big hospital enterprise in Charleston, W. Va.

Jockey Thompson, who has a record as a cross-country rider in Ireland, is spending the season in America and may be seen in some of the steeplechase races in the east. He is a brother of A.
Thompson, a successful English rider.

George Hill, brother of Charles Hill, manager of Clarence H. Mackey's Kingston Stud, has abandoned his idea of going to the Argentine Republic as a trainer. He recently arrived in New York, after having gone as far as Havana before changing his mind.

GOVERNOR HUGHES' REMARKABLE COURSE.

ning race meetings, with power to make such reasonable rules and regulations as it might from time to time deem proper for their control.

"Time went on and each year from 1895 to 1907, inclusive, saw marked and steady improvement in racing in this state conducted under due supervision and control. Racing, in itself a healthy amusement, had become a cleanly sport, dear to the people and popular with hundreds of thousands whose voices have been silent during all this controversy.

"How much is there of substance in the constitutional argument of the Governor? Is it real and genuine, or is it plausible and specious only? Mr.
Hughes protests against the discrimination between betting in a poolroom and betting at a race track,
and he argues that neither circumstance nor place should make any difference in the determination of what is a crime and what is not a crime. There is no great force in such an argument, because there are many acts which, when done in one place,
are offenses and yet when committed in another place are not illegal; such, for instance, as getting drunk, which is a misdemeanor when indulged in in public and yet is not the subject of magisterial correction when within the walls of one's own house.

"Governor Hughes believes that this is a new question which he has discovered, but he has overlooked the fact that the question has been decided over and over again by our highest courts.

"On the ground of alleged discrimination in inflicting an exclusive penalty for betting at the race tracks different from the penalty provided by the Penal Code, the Percy-Gray act of 1895 has been repeatedly assailed, but it has been uniformly upheld as constitutional by the Court of Appeals.
The special plea which would override and nullify
the decisions of our court of last resort would not seem to be entitled to much weight with lawyers or with the public. In the Sturgis case the Appellate Division of this department, in its opinion by Judge Rumsey, said:

"It is for that body (the Legislature) always to prescribe the extent to which they will go in punishing any particular act, or whether or not a particular act shall be prescribed as a crime.

"In doing that, of course, they may take into consideration the gravity of the particular offense;
and it would be perfectly proper also to consider
the circumstances under which the act was done,
for an act done under one set of circumstances may constitute a serious offense, while under other circumstances it might be no offense at all, or at most a very venial one. This was evidently the view of the Legislature.

"But, as anyone can see, there are circumstances under which a bet may be recorded without any very serious harm coming from it; and so the Legislature evidently thought, and therefore they provided that the acts which were forbidden by Section 351 should be punished as therein prescribed, except when another penalty was provided by law. This of course they had the right to do, because the particular penalty which should be provided for any act must be clearly within the discretion of the Legislature."

"On appeal this decision was affirmed.

"The Constitution says that bookmaking or any other kind of gambling shall not be authorized or allowed within this State, and that the Legislature
shall pass appropriate laws to prevent such offenses.
But the Constitution does not say that bookmaking or any other kind of gambling shall be made a crime, and the Court of Appeals said of the act of 1895: 'Whatever its indirect effect may be it certainly cannot be said that this was a statute which in terms authorized any of the forbidden acts.'
Here we have it decided by the court of last resort
that the existing law does not authorize or permit bookmaking or betting on a race track.

"The Constitution does not give Governor Hughes of this state the right to determine what laws are 'appropriate' under this section. 'Appropriate'
is that which is 'suitable for the purpose and circumstances.' The determination of what laws are appropriate is vested in the Legislature alone, and on this question the opinion of the Court of Appeals, rendered by Judge Martin in this same Sturgis case,
is conclusive:

"The Constitution in express terms reposed in the Legislature the power and imposed upon it the duty of passing such laws, thus clothing it with the right to consider and determine for itself what laws were appropriate and should be passed to carry into effect. That the law under consideration is in a sense appropriate to accomplish the purpose of that provision must be admitted. Whether it will prove less effective to accomplish that result than some other we are not called upon to determine. It being in a degree appropriate, we are aware of no principle of constitutional law which would authorize this court to condemn it as invalid or unconstitutional, because in our opinion some more effective or more appropriate law might have been devised and enacted. So long as this legislation was in any degree appropriate to carry into effect the purpose of the Constitution it does not fall under its condemnation.

"That this provision of the Constitution was not intended to be self-executing is manifest, as it expressly delegates to the Legislature the authority and requires it to enact such laws as it shall deem appropriate to carry it into execution."

"In view of this decision of a great court—our court of last resort—that the existing law is appropriate and that the Legislature has complied with the constitutional mandate, how idle is the argument that the Constitution has not been obeyed.
One great department of government, the Legislature, has determined that an act is appropriate.
Another great department, the judiciary, has determined that the Legislature was right in its action and in its judgment. Is it for the Executive to compel a rescission or repeal of the existing law solely by the argument that the Constitution has not been complied with?

"The basic principle of all constitutional government is the independence one of another of the three co-ordinate branches."

DAINTY DAME A MUCH IMPROVED FILLY.

Lexington, Ky., April 18.—Neither President J.
N. Camden, nor Vice-President Hal P. Headley is expected to be in attendance at the meeting of the Kentucky Association this spring. Mr. Camden is on a cruise of the Mediterranean and a visit to Italy with Mrs. Camden, whose health has not been good for some time. Mr. Headley, who was stricken with paralysis while on a visit to Mexico in February, has not recovered sufficiently to be able to leave his room. Matt J. Winn, it is understood, will exercise a general supervision over the meeting.
Charles F. Price will be the presiding judge and Jake Holtman will do the starting. Secretary Letcher will have the assistance of Will Shelly.

Dainty Dame is one of the most improved of the horses that were wintered here. J. W. Ferguson, her owner, is training her this year and will start her a time or two at the local meeting. The smartest of the two-year-olds in the Ferguson barn is Ocala. She will be heard from before the racing season is very old.

Kimball Patterson is making preparations to ship seven horses to New York Monday. They will be stabled at Gravesend. He will not have anything to race here.

W. H. and Harry Laudeman will remain here until May 1, when they will go to New York to book.

This is to be Rolla Colston's last season as a trainer. He is among the very last of the old-school of colored trainers, and has been probably the most thrifty of them all. He has saved his money and has sufficient to keep him comfortably
for the remainder of his days.

The first of the get of Ort Wells are arriving at Leonatus Stud, and persons who have seen them say they are fine-looking foals.

The good mare, Dutch Barbara, was mated a few days ago with Nasturtium. She missed to him
last year.

Colonel Milton Young, who went to Woodburn
Farm last Thursday to have a look at Samsou, and afterwards booked twelve mares to him, says
he was very much impressed with the appearance of the son of Sainfoin, and believes he will have a great future in the stud.

Ben Meyers, acting for Louis A. Cella, has made an offer for the yearling full-brother to Bernis, by Hermene—Katy of the West. This youngster is owned by A. H. Engman, whose home is now in Clear Water, Florida, and it was to that point that the offer was sent a day or two ago. The colt, a chestnut in color, but not particularly handsome, is at The Meadows. He is a little fellow, but he has a way about him that impels the impression that he is bound to make a race horse.

WESTERN TRAINERS AND RIDERS LICENSED.

Lexington, Ky., April 18.—At the meeting of the State Racing Commission today, licenses were issued to 108 trainers, twenty-one jockeys and fifteen apprentices and the following new rules were adopted:

No boy under thirteen years of age, or who weighs less than seventy pounds, will be granted a license
by this commission.

No two-year-old shall carry less than eighty pounds; no three-year-old less than eighty-seven pounds; and no four-year-old or over less than 100 pounds, including all allowances, in any race. Fillies and geldings shall in all cases be entitled to sex allowances.

The allowances to apprentice riders shall be as follows:

Five pounds in purse and selling races, three pounds in handicaps and no allowances in stakes.

Chairman J. P. Chinn and Charles F. Grainger were absent and had not Colonel E. F. Clay, who yesterday was believed to be too ill to attend the meeting, joined Messrs. Milton Young and Louis des Cognets, there would not have been a quorum.
The next meeting of the commission will be held Wednesday to pass upon further applications. The licenses granted were as follows:

J. B. Wood.

BARNEY SCHREIBER'S TREMENDOUS STABLE.

Numerically the greatest American stable is that with which Barney Schreiber began the campaign of 1908. Embracing 106 horses in all, it is probably without precedent in this country in that respect, but it is not at all likely that all or half of these horses will be raced this year in Schreiber's colors.
Sales and failures in training will be sure to deplete the list by mid-summer. Allowing for this, it is still a remarkable aggregation of thoroughbreds and the names and breeding of its members are as follows:

NEW YORK FORM CHART.

(AQUEDUCT.)

SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1908.

WEATHER CLOUDY.

TRACK FAST.

Fourth day. Queens County Jockey Club. Spring Meeting of 12 days. (280 books on.)

Presiding Judge, Clarence McDowell. Starter, Mars Cassidy. Secretary, F. Rehberger.

Racing starts at 2:30 p. m. (Chicago time 1:30 p. m.). W indicates whip, S spurs, B blinkers. Figures in parentheses following the distance of each race indicate index number, track record, age of horse and weight carried.

74312 FIRST RACE—1.2 Mile Straight. (45307-461-2-109.) $800 added. 2-year-olds. Fillies. Allowances. Net value to winner $680.

Winner—Ch. f, by Watercross—Victoria Cross (trained by J. Schlosser).
Went to post at 2:30. At post 1 minute. Start fair. Won driving; second and third the same. Indomitable was like a good filly, was never far from the front and came away with a rush in the final drive. Mystify is sure to improve, broke well and showed an excellent turn of speed, but raced green and tired right at the end. My Mariutch ran well, but was in close quarters next to the rail right at the finish, could not get through and Lang was of little help in the final drive. Ocean Maid was outtrun early, but finished well and probably was short. Thistle Belle showed some early speed. Catherine Simpson and Black Mamie had little chance at the start.

74313 SECOND RACE—About 2 Miles. (65376-420-5-154.) Winfield Steeplechase Handicap. $1,200 added. 4-year-olds and upward. Net value to winner $1,110.

Winner—Ch. g, by Knight of the Thistle—Zerlina (trained by M. Daly).
Went to post at 2:53. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second and third the same. Motor was the best, but swerved at many of the fences and his race was not particularly impressive, although he was much the best. Motor went fairly well, but was only second because Palm fell. The latter went down at the Liverpool four jumps from the finish, was mounted by C. H. Smith, one of his owners, and finished for third money. At the time he fell Palm was going well and surely would have finished second.
Scratched—(73959)Kara, 150.

74314 THIRD RACE—1 Mile. (50376-138-3-106.) $700 added. 3-year-olds and upward. Selling. Net value to winner $690.

Winner—Br. g, by Hamburg—Elusive (trained by F. Burlew).
Went to post at 3:27. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won handily; second and third driving. Jugger broke well and was never far from the front and came away with a rush in the final drive, finished fast and the result was never afterwards in doubt. Molesey, away badly, closed a big gap and finished with a rush on the outside, but never threatened the winner. Smoker showed a good turn of speed in the stretch and appeared a possible winner at the eighth post, but tired at the end. Royal Lady, away well, went out shortly after the start and lost some ground, but only ran fairly well. Compare showed a dash of speed, but quit early. The winner was entered for $1,000, no bid.
Scratched—(74276)Voorhees, 110; (74290) Sir Toddlington, 106; (74290) Ingham, 103; (69482) Master of Craft, 105.

Winner—Br. g, by Commando—Dancing Water (trained by J. Rowe).
Went to post at 3:54. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second and third driving. Restigouchie was easily best, broke last, but was in front in the final drive, and racing the first quarter in better than 23 seconds, was rated in front to the stretch, where he prompted for a few strides and Delany went to the whip and, responding quickly, Restigouchie drew away to win easily. Jack Atkin was as fast as best of the others, ran a fine race and stood a long stretch drive very gamely. Rialto showed excellent speed, but tired in the stretch from chasing the winner. Rifleman ran a good race. Fordello, off early, quit early. Blandly ran poorly.
Scratched—(74279) Wellbourne, 106.
Overweights—Campaigner, 5 pounds; Zienap, 2; Killiecrankie, 1; Blandly, 2.

74316 FIFTH RACE—4.2 Furlongs Straight. (74280-52-2-104.) $700 added. 2-year-olds. Maidens. Selling. Net value to winner $730.

Winner—B. f, by Galore—Discretion (trained by C. T. Patterson).
Went to post at 4:22. At post 5 minutes. Start fair. Won driving; second and third the same. Chaperon showed decided improvement over her last season's form, was always prominent and was drawing clear at the end. Ramble set the pace to the last twenty yards and tired, but finished gamely. St. Withold was a game contender to the last sixteenth, where he faltered through greenness, and is sure to improve. Bonnie Kelso ran well and finished fast. Hayre had little chance with his position and was in close quarters throughout. Dander showed good speed, but was pinched off at the end. Pleasing got off badly and was hemmed in. The winner, entered for $800, was bid up to $1,100 and bought in.
Scratched—Christmas, 99; Lilypad, 99.
Overweights—Hayre, 3 pounds; J. W. Kent, 2.

74317 SIXTH RACE—6.1.2 Furlongs. (52882-1194-4-100.) $800 added. 3-year-olds and upward. Handicap. Net value to winner $665.

Winner—B. h, by Solitaire II.—Carnation II. (trained by E. Wishard).
Went to post at 4:49. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second and third the same. Voorhees was much the best, going to the front in the final drive, was never afterwards in trouble and won cantering. It was a procession throughout and Halket always held Pretension perfectly safe. The latter ran without blinkers and other equipment he usually carries and will do much better presently. Castlewood was never a contender.
Scratched—(73763)Colonel Jack, 100; 74044-Glorifier, 126; 70776 Sir Lynwood, 112; 74315 Blandly, 111; 74279 Oxford, 107.

Winner—Ch. g, by Peter McCue—Tera (trained by G. Forbes).
Went to post at 1:44. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second and third driving. J. W. O'Neill, well and advantageously placed from the start, made good finally and won going away. Hector is improving, ran in nearest pursuit of Bell Reed and drew out in the stretch, but swerved badly at the end. Elmdale, after prominent contention to the last sixteenth, was crowded back. Bell Reed made the running for five furlongs like a crackerjack, but was pulled up sharply when Hector crossed over. Dr. Sherman made up ground all the way. Lustig, nearly left, closed a gap. Head Dance had a rough journey. Mintia was never dangerous. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.
Overweights—Hector, 1 pound; Mintia, 2.

74319 SECOND RACE—1.2 Mile. (74190-47-2-113.) Purse $400. 2-year-olds. Allowances. Net value to winner $325.

BIG KILLING Saturday, April 25th.

I have word from my man at Oakland on a horse that worked 1 1-8 miles in 1:56 1/2 last Thursday morning. This horse will go for the money Saturday, April 25, and will be played by a select few, and the odds will probably be 6 or 8 to 1, and, barring an accident, will win. Turfites, here is one of the best things I have had this season, and I will advise a plunge bet to win.
